

A DOUBLE ELOPEMENT.

TWO COUPLES FROM RICHMOND MARRIED IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. George H. Cease and Miss Alice V. Johnson and Mr. William W. Harvey, cutter and Miss Carolina Brown.

Eight o'clock last night I pulled the bell at 102½ Marshall street, the residence of Mr. Lorenzo S. Cease, and that gentlewoman answered the ring, the church surrounded by a bright and happy quartette—an equal bright and happy quartette—was soon receiving congratulations from the friends who had come to fond shaking hands and jinked generally as happy gaiety. Two couples who have been married a few hours, should and did only a few hours, now, were the facts.

Really a reported! How nice! Now write a nice story. Tell it straight! Oh, what was nothing but a double elopement!

There were a few of the exclamations I heard.

These were the facts I can concerning a real home file job, double elopement:

Two couples left 82½ Marshall street before 8 o'clock yesterday morning en route to the railway station, en route for Washington.

Mrs. Mary and Sette Hayes, of Louisville, Ky., are in the city, the guests of Mrs. Ewing.

Rev. Charles H. McGee will lecture at Union Station, 8½ M. e. church this evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the new edition.

Mrs. Brizola, of Twenty-eighth and M. streets, who has been visiting her mother in Italy since June, returned home last week.

Miss Anna Boone Arzen and Miss Margaret Gaskins Land have returned home from New York, after having spent two months in the metropolis.

Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will have an important meeting to-morrow at the hall in the basement of St. Patrick's church.

Arrived in Byrd-Street station, Mr. Cease, the elder, gave them on the 7 o'clock train to Washington, where, after getting the proper license, they went to the residence of the pastor of the First Presbyterian church in the city.

Miss Lizzie Seelinger, of Norfolk, Va., who has been the guest of Mrs. John Seelinger and Mr. Herman Morgenstern, No. 12½ East Broad-street, for two months, left for home Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Gundlach, of Fulton, accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Kunkel, and children, arrived home on Thursday, after a visit of six weeks to relatives and friends in Pittsburgh, York, and Baltimore.

Mr. V. T. Bain left by Chesapeake and Ohio 10½ train last night to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. D. F. Chapman. She died at her home, at Haywood, Va., yesterday afternoon, after an illness of only a few days.

Mr. F. H. Robinson and bride, from Hamilton, N. Y., who have been stopping at the Lexington hotel for several days, have returned home, after spending a pleasant visit in his sister, Mrs. Dr. A. W. Tandy, of Petersburg.

Saturday night about 8 o'clock, while two young men were passing along Nineteenth street, they had their attention attracted by a noise in an alley and, upon investigation, they found a healthy negro boy, who had been wandering about the house, and was lying in a chair.

The man, who had been stopping at the Lexington hotel for several days, had returned home, after spending a pleasant visit in his sister, Mrs. Dr. A. W. Tandy, of Petersburg.

Mr. Harvey cutter and Miss Johnson were engaged to be married, neither of whom expected to tell anyone of their engagement, and brides could not be found at the house quietly without attracting attention, and wading up the rest of the household.

Mr. Harvey cutter and Miss Johnson both from Salem, Va., and happened to take the train for Richmond two weeks since. Mr. Harvey cutter went to Murphy's Hotel, after escorting Miss Johnson to Mr. Cease's house, where she was to pay a visit to Mrs. Cease.

While she and Mr. George H. Cease were engaged to be married, neither of whom expected to tell anyone of their engagement, and brides could not be found at the house quietly without attracting attention, and wading up the rest of the household.

The rumor on the street yesterday that Mr. H. Tyler of Salem, Va., was about to marry his wife, this was without foundation.

Mr. Tyler is just twenty-two, dark, youthful-looking, and is a member of the firm of Cease Bros., of 905 East Marshall and 909 East Broad street in this city.

Mr. Cease is the daughter of Mr. W. R. Johnson, a prominent railroad contractor of Salem, Va., where he has a comfortable home.

Mr. Harvey cutter, only twenty-five, looks alert, dark-haired, and handsome, and is a prominent business man of Salem, Va.

Mr. Harvey cutter is a daughter of the late William Carl Brown of Richmond, who enjoyed a reputation as an artist, having his studio at 30½ east Franklin street. He died in 1867, and left a widow and three sons. His widow has been living at Mrs. Cease's, 802 East Marshall, while engaged in setting her late father's estate.

Mr. Cease, the elder, Mr. Cease will reside in Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey cutter will go to Salem, Va., to live in a few days.

Mr. Cease will wed his mother in Salem of her marriage, and written her also, but did not think his father was at home, and so has not told him. It will be all right, he said, with a smile, and asked if there would be a paternal kick on his part.

"Mother will fit with him." "Yes," she went on, "when a woman makes up her mind, she sticks to it, and I quote."

Mrs. Harvey cutter's mother is visiting in Buffalo, N. Y., where the bride had wired her to return to her parents, and the only thing that seemed to trouble Mrs. Harvey cutter was that some inaccurate and highly-colored account of the match might reach Mrs. Brown before her wire and letter should be received.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS.

A Big Meeting Held at the Seventh Street Church.

At the Seventh-Street Christian Church, Sunday afternoon, a large number of people gathered to listen to the interesting service to the large crowd that attended. The church was filled to overflowing.

The programme consisted of singing and instrumental music, the songs led by Mr. Palmer, of Kansas, were rendered in full volume, and the speeches, though very brief, were full of life and spirit.

Dr. J. Z. Tyler, who was chairman of the committee of 34 in charge of the Cleveland Convention, presided. The leader called attention to the fact that promptness in opening and closing was the secret of English success.

Rev. A. P. Frost, of Ohio, led in prayer. The first speaker was Mrs. W. E. Moses, of Kansas, who spoke on Junior Endeavor.

Rev. George T. Smith, a returned missionary from Japan, spoke of Christian Endeavor and Christian Union.

President of the Chicago University spoke on the place of the Bible in Christian Endeavor.

Rev. George W. Muckley, on Christian Endeavor and soul winning, spoke eloquently of his subject, and made sure proofs of self the great necessity for success.

Rev. F. M. Rainey discussed "Young People and World-Wide Mission."

Rev. Mr. Palmer, a returned missionary from China, was asked to give some experiences from their work in that land. He expressed the belief that notwithstanding the slowness of the Chinese civilization, we are lost if we would make a much more vast impression on the world at large than has Japan. He said that Christian Endeavor was already making itself felt in China.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Sawyer was a love story. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer told interesting incidents of China life.

A ringing address was made by R. W. Waggoner, a layman of Kansas City, on "The Soul and Preachers."

Rev. Dr. J. Z. Tyler closed the meeting with a brief address descriptive of the Cleveland Convention and the result of the musical forces seen at that meeting.

He referred to his former pastorate in Richmond in the tenderest manner.

Immediately after Dr. Tyler's address the meeting was adjourned to a Junior Endeavor service, which took its place, led by Miss Jessie Farrar.

THE ARTS QUARTERLY.

The Programs at the Moran's Musicale were delightful.

Seven Hundred and Eighty-four were the number at the Academy of Music's musicale, at the Academy of Music last evening, headed by a large audience. The attraction was the Artistic Ladies' Quartette, and the solo singer, Madeline Temple, reciter, and the fair singers were received with much favor, as was also the reader.

Their concerted numbers were: "Majorka Rausse," of Gauve; "A Love Song," Hatton; "The Legend of the Chimes," Upton; "Come, Third the Eve," Root; "Old Uncle Ned," "The Lost Chord," Sir Arthur Sullivan.

All these charming selections were rendered artistically, and repetitions of "The Lost Chord" were insisted upon.

Miss Temple scored a triumphant success with the audience, reciting most acceptably, "Mrs. Travers' First Hunt," "Jo Estelle," "The Girl Friend," "The Fairies," "The Legend of the Chimes," "Old Uncle Ned," "The Lost Chord," Sir Arthur Sullivan.
